Our Campuses and Students

In addition to our main campus in Southeast Fresno, FPU regional campuses are located throughout the Valley in North Fresno, Visalia, Bakersfield and Merced—and we serve students globally online. We welcome traditional undergraduate, graduate and seminary students and adult learners seeking degree completion.

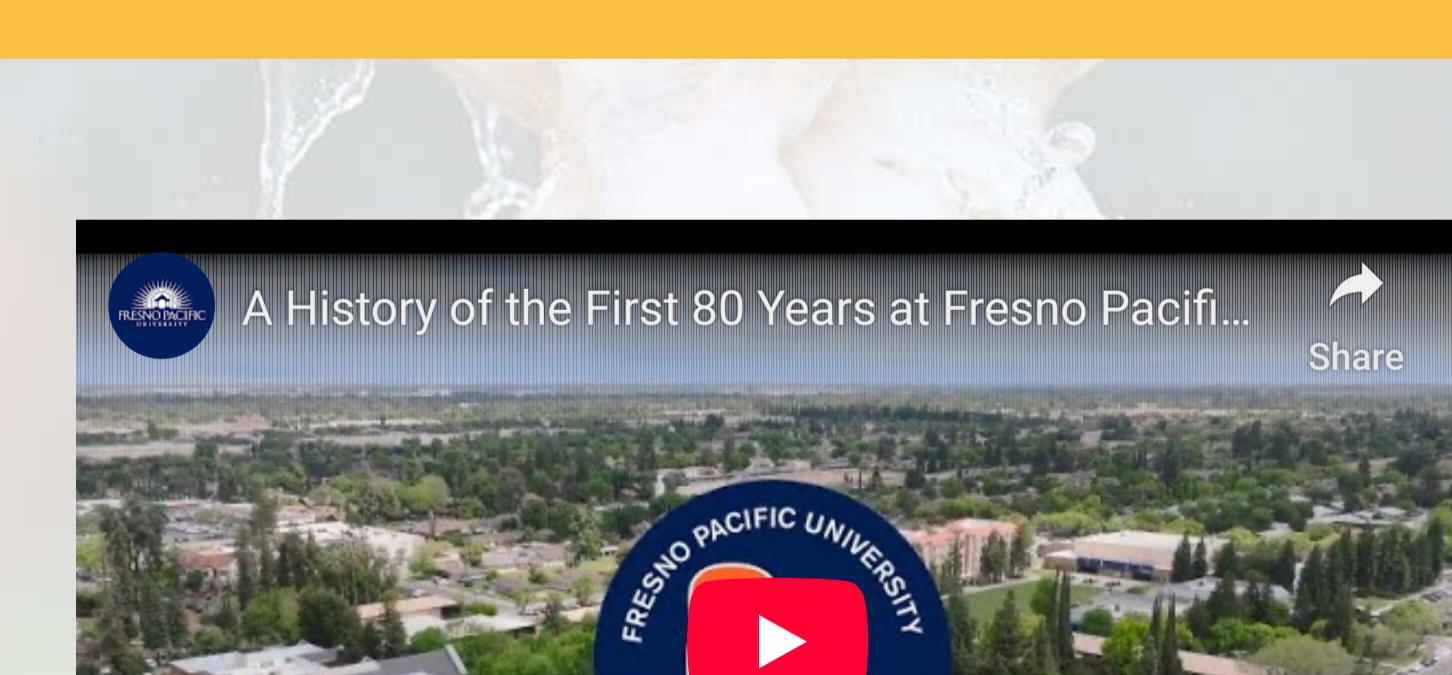

Our President

Dr. André Stephens has 30 years of experience in Christian higher education in California. As president of FPU, he works tirelessly to provide students with meaningful learning experiences that foster Christian character and turn possibilities into realities. His passion for Christian higher education is evident in the phrase he often says: "Students' success is our success."

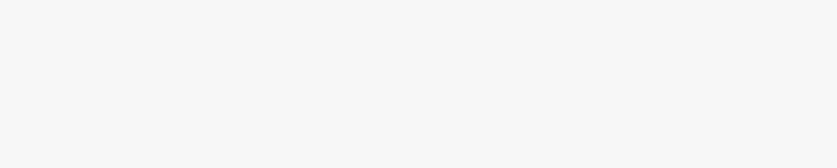

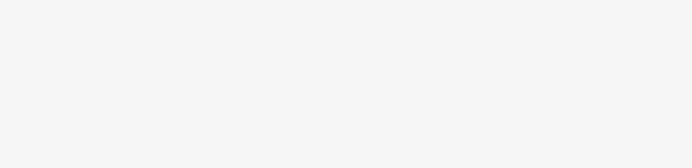

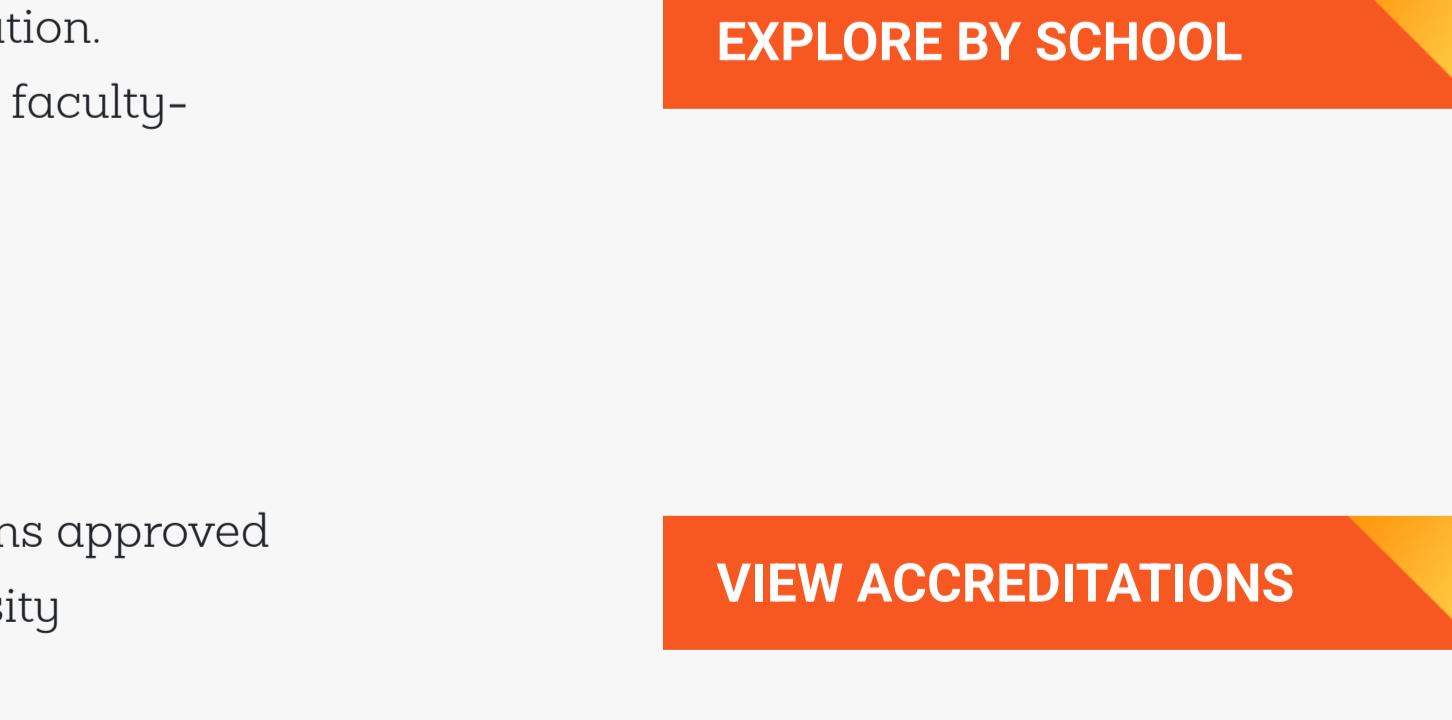

Our Commitment to Diversity

Our commitment to welcoming diversity among our student body, faculty and staff comes out of our Christian values, rooted in Anabaptist, evangelical and ecumenical tradition. No matter who you are, we're dedicated to making sure you'll have a seat at our table when you come here—and that your voice will be heard.

Our Mission

Fresno Pacific University develops students for leadership and service through excellence in Christian higher education. Come ready to learn. Leave equipped to have a transformative impact throughout the Central Valley and in global communities.

OUR FACULTY

Preparing students to achieve more than they thought possible starts with faculty. More than 80 percent hold doctorates and all combine challenging scholarship with real-world application. Individual attention and contact beyond the classroom support lifelong learning through faculty-student relationships.

ACCREDITATION INFORMATION

Fresno Pacific University has a general accreditation and program-specific accreditations approved by the WASC (Western Association of Schools and Colleges) Senior College and University Commission.
